Report on the Audit of the Separate Financial StatementsOpinion*

We have audited the separate financial statements of CIRTEK HOLDINGS PHILIPPINES CORPORATION (the "Parent Company"), which comprise the separate statement of financial position as at December 31, 2019, and the separate statement of comprehensive income, separate statement of changes in equity and separate statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the separate financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying separate financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the separate financial position of the Parent Company as at December 31, 2019, and its separate financial performance and its separate cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRSs).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Separate Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Parent Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippines (Code of Ethics) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the separate financial statements in Philippines, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the separate financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the separate financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have determined that there are no key audit matters to communicate in our report.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the SEC Form 20-IS (Definitive Information Statement), SEC Form 17-A and Annual Report for the year ended December 31, 2019, but does not include the separate financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The SEC Form 20-IS (Definitive Information Statement), SEC Form 17-A and Annual Report for the year ended December 31, 2019 are expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the separate financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the separate financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the separate financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audits or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

Other Matter

The separate financial statements of the Parent Company for the year ended December 31, 2018, were audited by another auditor who expressed an unmodified opinion on those statement on May 3, 2019.

As part of our audit of the 2019 financial statements, we also audited the reclassification described in Note 28 that was applied to amend the 2018 financial statements. In our opinion, such reclassification is appropriate and has been properly applied. We were not engaged to audit, review, or apply any procedures to the 2018 financial statements of the Company other than with respect to the reclassification disclosed in Note 28 and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on the 2018 financial statements taken as a whole.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Separate Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these separate financial statements in accordance with PFRSs, and for such internal control as Management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of separate financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the separate financial statements, Management is responsible for assessing the Parent Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless Management either intends to liquidate the Parent Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Parent Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Separate Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the separate financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these separate financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the separate financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Parent Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by Management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of Management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Parent Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the separate financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Parent Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the separate financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the separate financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audits of the separate financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic separate financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information required under Revenue Regulations 15-2010 and 19-2011 in Notes 30 and 31, respectively, to the separate financial statements, is presented for purposes of filing with Bureau of Internal Revenue and is not a required part of the basic separate financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of the Management of CIRTEK HOLDINGS PHILIPPINES CORPORATION. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic separate financial statements. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic separate financial statements taken as a whole.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report is PERCIVAL R. DE GUZMAN.

2. ADOPTION OF NEW AND REVISED ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

The Philippine Financial Reporting Standards Council (FRSC) approved the issuance of new and revised Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRS). The term "PFRS" in general includes all applicable PFRS, Philippine Accounting Standards (PAS), and Interpretations issued by the Philippine Interpretations Committee (PIC), Standing Interpretations Committee (SIC) and International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (IFRIC) which have been approved by the FRSC and adopted by SEC.

These new and revised PFRS prescribe new accounting recognition, measurement and disclosure requirements applicable to the Parent Company. When applicable, the adoption of the new standards was made in accordance with their transitional provisions, otherwise the adoption is accounted for as change in accounting policy under PAS 8, Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors.

2.01 New and Revised PFRSs Applied with No Material Effect on the Separate Financial Statements

The following new and revised PFRSs have been adopted in these separate financial statements. The application of these new and revised PFRSs has not had any material impact on the amounts reported for the current and prior years but may affect the accounting for future transactions or arrangements.

- PFRS 16, *Leases

PFRS 16 'Leases' replaces PAS 17 'Leases' along with three Interpretations (IFRIC 4 'Determining whether an Arrangement contains a Lease', SIC 15 'Operating Leases-Incentives' and SIC 27 'Evaluating the Substance of Transactions Involving the Legal Form of a Lease'). The new Standard has been applied using the modified retrospective approach, with the cumulative effect of adopting PFRS 16 being recognized in equity as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings for the current period. Prior periods have not been restated.

Introduces a single lessee accounting model and requires a lessee to recognize assets and liabilities for all leases with a term of more than 12 months, unless the underlying asset is of low value. A lessee is required to recognize a right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying leased asset and a lease liability representing its obligation to make lease payments.

On the other hand, it substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements in PAS 17. Accordingly, a lessor continues to classify its leases as operating leases or finance leases, and to account for those two types of leases differently.

PFRS 16 is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

During the year, the Company has no existing lease agreement. Hence, the Parent Company will not be affected by the standard.

- Amendments to PAS 28, *Long-term Interests in Associates and Joint Ventures

The amendment clarifies that the exclusion of PFRS 9 applies only to interests a company accounts using the equity method. A company applies PFRS 9 to other interests in associates and joint venture, including long-term interests to which the equity method is not applied and that, in substance, form part of the net investment in those associates and joint ventures.

The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019 and shall be applied retrospectively.

- Amendments to PFRS 9, *Prepayment Features with Negative Compensation

This amends the existing requirements in PFRS 9 regarding termination rights in order to allow measurement at amortized cost (or, depending on the business model, at fair value through other comprehensive income) even in the case of negative compensation payments.

The sign of prepayment amount is not relevant (i.e. this is depending on the interest rate prevailing at the time of termination), a payment may also be made in favor of the contracting party effecting the early repayment. The calculation of this compensation payment must be the same for both the case of an early repayment penalty and the case of an early repayment gain.

The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning or after January 1, 2019 and shall be applied retrospectively.

- Amendments to PAS 19, *Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement

The amendments require that if a plan amendment, curtailment or settlement occurs, the current service cost and the net interest for the period after the remeasurement shall be determined using the assumptions used for the remeasurement. It clarifies the effect of a plan amendment, curtailment or settlement on the requirements regarding asset ceiling.

The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

- Annual Improvements to PFRSs 2015 - 2017 Cycle

Amendments to PFRS 3 and PFRS 11 - Previously held interest in a joint operation -

The amendments to PFRS 3 clarify that when an entity obtains control of a business that is a joint operation, it remeasures previously held interest in that business. The amendments to PFRS 11 clarify that when an entity obtains joint control of a business that is a joint operation, the entity does not remeasure previously held interest in that business.

Amendments to PAS 12 - Income tax consequences of payments on financial instruments classified as equity - The amendments clarify that the requirements in the former paragraph 52B (to recognize the income tax consequences of dividends where the transactions or events that generated distributable profits are recognized) apply to all income tax consequences of dividends by moving the paragraph away from 52A that deals only with situations where there are different tax rates for distributed and undistributed profits.

Amendments to PAS 23 - Borrowing costs eligible for capitalization - The amendments clarify that if any specific borrowing remains outstanding after the related asset is ready for its intended use or sale, that borrowing becomes part of the funds that an entity borrows generally when calculating the capitalization rate on general borrowings.

The amendments are effective beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

- Philippine Interpretation IFRIC-23, *Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments

It clarifies the accounting for uncertainties in income taxes. An entity is required to use judgment to determine whether each tax treatment should be considered independently or whether some tax treatments should be considered together. The decision should be based on which approach provides better predictions of the resolution of the uncertainty.

An entity is to assume that a taxation authority with the right to examine any amounts reported to it will examine those amounts and will have full knowledge of all relevant information when doing so.

An entity has to consider whether it is probable that the relevant authority will accept each tax treatment, or group of tax treatments, that it used or plans to use in its income tax filing.

The amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

2.02 New and Revised PFRSs in Issue but Not Yet Effective

The Parent Company will adopt the following standards and interpretations enumerated below when they become effective. Except as otherwise indicated, the Parent Company does not expect the adoption of these new and amended PFRS, to have significant impact on the separate financial statements.

2.02.01 Standard Adopted by FRSC and Approved by the Board of Accountancy (BOA)

- PFRS 17, *Insurance Contracts

PFRS 17 sets out the requirements that an entity should apply in reporting information about insurance contracts it issues and reinsurance contracts it holds. It requires an entity that issues insurance contracts to report them on the balance sheet as the total of the fulfilment cash flows and the contractual service margin. It requires an entity to provide information that distinguishes two ways insurers earn profits from insurance contracts: the insurance service result and the financial result. It requires an entity to report as insurance revenue the amount charged for insurance coverage when it is earned, rather than when the entity receives premium. It requires that insurance revenue to exclude the deposits that represent the investment of the policyholder, rather than an amount charged for services. Similarly, it requires the entity to present deposit repayments as settlements of liabilities rather than as insurance expense.

PFRS 17 is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2021. Early application is permitted for entities that apply PFRS 9 Financial Instruments and PFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers on or before the date of initial application of PFRS 17.

An entity shall apply PFRS 17 retrospectively unless impracticable, except that an entity is not required to present the quantitative information required by paragraph 28(f) of PAS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors and an entity shall not apply the option in paragraph B115 for periods before the date of initial application of PFRS 17. If, and only if, it is impracticable, an entity shall apply either the modified retrospective approach or the fair value approach.

- Amendments to PFRS 3, *Definition of a Business

The amendments clarify that to be considered a business, an acquired set of activities and assets must include, at a minimum, an input and a substantive process that together significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs. It narrows the definitions of a business and of outputs by focusing on goods and services provided to customers and by removing reference to an ability to reduce costs. It adds guidance and illustrative examples to help entities assess whether a substantive process has been acquired. It removes the assessment of whether market participants are capable of replacing any missing inputs or processes and continuing to produce outputs. It adds an optional concentration test that permits a simplified assessment of whether an acquired set of activities and assets is not a business.

The amendments are effective beginning on or after January 1, 2020. Earlier application is permitted.

- Amendments to PAS 1 and PAS 8, *Definition of Material

The definition of material has been amended as follows: information is material if omitting, misstating or obscuring it could reasonably be expected to influence decisions that the primary users of general purpose financial statements make on the basis of those financial statements, which provide financial information about a specific reporting entity.

The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2020. Earlier application is permitted.

2.02.02 Deferred

- Amendments to PFRS 10 and PAS 28, *Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture

The amendments clarify the treatment of the sale or contribution of assets between an investor and its associate and joint venture. This requires an investor in its financial statements to recognize in full the gains and losses arising from the sale or contribution of assets that constitute a business while recognize partial gains and losses if the assets do not constitute a business (i.e. up to the extent only of unrelated investor share).

On January 13, 2016, the FRSC decided to postpone the original effective date of January 1, 2016 of the said amendments until the IASB has completed its broader review of the research project on equity accounting that may result in the simplification of accounting for such transactions and of other aspects of accounting for associates and joint ventures.

3. BASIS FOR THE PREPARATION AND PRESENTATION OF SEPARATE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

3.01 Statement of Compliance

The separate financial statements have been prepared in conformity with PFRS and are under the historical cost convention, except for certain financial instruments that are carried either at fair value or amortized cost.

3.02 Functional and Presentation Currency

Items included in the separate financial statements of the Parent Company are measured using United States Dollar ($), the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates (the "functional currency").

The Parent Company chose to present its separate financial statements using its functional currency.

3.03 Basis of Preparation

These separate financial statements were based from the Parent Company's own transactions, exclusive of transactions of the Parent Company's subsidiaries, the latter transactions being used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements, which are also available for public use.

3.04 Current and Non-Current Presentation

The Parent Company classifies an asset as current when:

- It expects to realize the asset, or intends to sell or consume it, in its normal operating cycle;
- It holds the asset primarily for the purpose of trading;
- It expects to realize the asset within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- The asset is cash or cash equivalent unless the asset is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

The Parent Company classifies all other assets as non-current.

The Parent Company classifies a liability as current when:

- It expects to settle the liability in its normal operating cycle;
- It holds the liability primarily for the purpose of trading;
- The liability is due to be settled within (12) twelve months after the reporting period; or
- It does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least (12) twelve months after the reporting period.

The Parent Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities, respectively.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principal accounting and financial reporting policies applied by the Parent Company in the preparation of its separate financial statements are enumerated below and are consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

4.01 Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

When measuring fair value, the Parent Company takes into consideration the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date.

A fair value measurement assumes that the transaction to sell the asset or liability is exchanged in an orderly transaction between market participants to sell the asset or transfer the liability at the measurement date under current market conditions. In addition, it assumes that the transaction takes place either: (a) in the principal market; or (b) in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market.

The Parent Company considers the fair value of an asset or a liability using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

The Parent Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs.

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date.
- Level 2 inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

4.02 Financial Assets

4.02.01 Initial Recognition and Measurement

The Parent Company recognizes a financial asset in its separate statement of financial position when, and only when, the Parent Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Except for receivables that do not have a significant financing component, at initial recognition, the Parent Company measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset.

At initial recognition, the Parent Company measures receivables that do not have a significant financing component at their transaction price.

4.02.02 Classification

➤ Financial Asset at Amortized Cost

A financial asset shall be measured at amortized cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

The Parent Company's financial assets measured at amortized costs include cash in banks, other receivables, and due from related parties.

a) Cash

Cash includes cash in banks which is cash deposits held at call with banks that are subject to insignificant risk of change in value. This shall be measured at the undiscounted amount of the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received.

b) Other Receivables and Due from Related Parties

Other receivables are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment. Finance income is recognized by applying the effective interest rate, except for short-term receivables when the recognition of interest would be immaterial.

➤ Financial Asset at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income

The Parent Company makes an irrevocable election at initial recognition for particular investments in equity instruments that would otherwise be measured at fair value through profit or loss to present subsequent changes in fair value through other comprehensive income.

The Parent Company's financial assets measured at financial asset at fair value through other comprehensive income pertains to an investment in unquoted equity shares.

The Parent Company has no financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss in both years.

4.02.03 Reclassification

When, and only when, the Parent Company changes its business model for managing financial assets, it shall reclassify all affected financial assets in accordance with Note 4.02.02. If the Parent Company reclassifies financial assets, it shall apply the reclassification prospectively from the reclassification date. The Parent Company shall not restate any previously recognized gains, losses (including impairment gains or losses) or interest.

4.02.04 Effective Interest Method

Interest revenue is calculated by using the effective interest method. This is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset except for: purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets and financial assets that are not purchased or originated credit-impaired but subsequently have become credit-impaired.

4.02.05 Impairment

The Parent Company shall measure expected losses of a financial instrument in a way that reflects:

- An unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined by evaluating a range of possible outcomes;
- The time value of money; and
- Reasonable and supportable assumption that is available without undue cost or effort at the reporting date about past events, current conditions and forecast of future economic conditions.

The Parent Company adopted general approach in accounting for impairment.

➤ General Approach

The Parent Company applied the general approach to cash, other receivables, and due from related parties. At each reporting date, the Parent Company measures the loss allowance for a financial asset at an amount equal to the lifetime expected credit losses if the credit risk on that financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition. However, if the credit risk has not increased significantly, the Parent Company measures the loss allowance equal to 12-month expected credit losses.

The Parent Company compares the risk of default occurring as at the reporting date with the risk of default occurring as at the date of initial recognition and consider the macro-economic factors such as GDP, interest, and inflation rates, the performance of the counterparties' industry, and the available financial information of each counterparty to determine whether there is a significant increase in credit risk or not since initial recognition.

The Parent Company determines that there has been a significant increase in credit risk when there is a significant decline in the factors.

The Parent Company assumes that the credit risk on a financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition because the financial instrument is determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date.

If the Parent Company has measured the loss allowance at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses in the previous reporting period, but determines at the current reporting date, that the credit quality improves (i.e. there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition), then the Parent Company shall measure the loss allowance at an amount equal to 12-month expected credit losses at the current reporting date.

The Parent Company recognizes in profit or loss, as an impairment gain or loss, the amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date.

The Parent Company performs the assessment of significant increases in credit risk on an individual basis.

The Parent Company determines that a financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- Significant financial difficulty of the counterparty; and
- A breach of contract, such as a default or past due event.
- The lender(s) of the counterparty, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the counterparty's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider; and
- It is becoming probable that the counterparty will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization.

4.02.06 Derecognition

The Parent Company derecognizes a financial asset when, and only when the contractual rights to the cash flows of the financial asset expires or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition. The difference between the carrying amount and the consideration received is recognized in profit or loss.

4.02.07 Write-off

The Parent Company directly reduces the gross carrying amount of a financial asset when the Parent Company has no reasonable expectations of recovering a financial asset in its entirety or a portion thereof. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event.

4.03 Prepayment and Other Current Assets

4.03.01 Prepayment

Prepayment represents expense not yet incurred but already paid in cash. This is initially recorded as asset and measured at the amount of cash paid. Subsequently, this is charged to profit or loss as it is consumed in operations or expire with the passage of time.

Prepayment is classified in the separate statement of financial position as current asset when the expense related to prepayment is expected to be incurred within one year or the Parent Company's normal operating cycle whichever is longer. Otherwise, prepayment is classified as a non-current asset.

4.03.02 Input VAT

Input VAT arises from the purchase of goods or services. This is applied against output VAT. The remaining balance is recoverable in future periods. This is carried at cost less allowance for impairment loss, if any. Impairment loss is recognized when input VAT can no longer be recovered.

4.04 Investments in Subsidiaries

A subsidiary is an entity, including an unincorporated entity such as a partnership, which is controlled by another entity known as parent. Control is the exposure or rights, to variable returns from the involvement with an investee and the ability to affect those returns through its power over an investee.

Investments in subsidiaries is accounted under the cost method. Under the cost method, the Parent Company recognizes as income the dividends received that are distributed from net accumulated earnings of the investee since the date of acquisition by the investor. Dividends received that are in excess of the earnings subsequent to the date of acquisition are not income and therefore considered as return or reduction of investment.

If the Parent Company loses control of a subsidiary, the Parent Company recognizes any investment retained in the former subsidiary at its fair value at the date when control is lost or recognizes any resulting difference as a gain or loss in profit or loss attributable to the Parent Company.

4.05 Transportation Equipment

Transportation equipment is initially measured at cost. The cost of an asset consists of its purchase price and costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Subsequent to initial recognition transportation equipment is carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Subsequent expenditures relating to an item of transportation equipment that have already been recognized are added to the carrying amount of the asset when it is probable that future economic benefits, in excess of the originally assessed standard of performance of the existing asset, will flow to the Parent Company. All other subsequent expenditures are recognized as expenses in the period in which those are incurred.

Depreciation of transportation equipment is computed on the straight-line method based on the estimated useful life of five (5) years.

The transportation equipment's residual values, useful life and depreciation methods are reviewed, and adjusted prospectively if appropriate, if there is an indication of a significant change since the last reporting date.

An item of transportation equipment is derecognized on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of a transportation equipment are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in profit or loss.

4.06 Impairment of Assets

At each reporting date, the Parent Company assesses whether there is any indication that any of its assets other than financial assets that are within the scope of PFRS 9, Financial Instruments, may have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any. Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Parent Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and the value in use. In assessing the value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognized as an expense.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset or cash-generating unit in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized as an income.

4.07 Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

4.08 Financial Liabilities and Equity Instruments

4.08.01 Financial Liabilities

4.08.01.01 Initial Recognition and Measurement

The Parent Company recognizes a financial liability in its separate statement of financial position when, and only when, the Parent Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

At initial recognition, the Parent Company measures a financial liability at its fair value minus, in the case of financial liability not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issuance of the liability.

4.08.01.02 Classification

The Parent Company classifies all financial liabilities as subsequently measured at amortized cost, except for:

- financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss;
- financial liabilities that arise when a transfer of a financial asset does not qualify for derecognition or when the continuing involvement approach applies;
- financial guarantee contracts;
- commitments to provide a loan at a below-market interest rate; and
- contingent consideration recognized by an acquirer in a business combination.

The Parent Company's financial liabilities at amortized cost pertain to accrued expenses and other payables (except withholding taxes payable and provisions), loans payable, dividends payable, due to related parties, and deposit for future stock subscription.

The Parent Company does not have financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss in both years.

4.08.01.03 Deposit for Future Stock Subscription

Deposit for future stock subscription is defined as a subscription agreement which, among other things, states that the Parent Company is not contractually obliged to return the consideration received and that the Parent Company is obliged to deliver fixed number of own shares of stock for a fixed amount of cash or property paid or to be paid by the contracting party.

Deposit for future stock subscription is classified as equity if all the conditions required for such recognition have been met as of the end of the reporting period otherwise, if not, classified as a liability.

Deposit for future stock subscription is classified as an equity when all of the following conditions are met as of the end of the reporting date:

- the unissued authorized capital stock of the Parent Company is insufficient to cover the amount of shares indicated in the contract;
- there is Board of Directors' approval on the proposed increase in authorized capital stock (for which a deposit was received by the corporation);
- there is stockholders' approval of said proposed increase; and
- the application for the approval of the proposed increase has been presented for filing or has been filed with the Commission.

4.08.01.04 Derecognition

The Parent Company removes a financial liability (or part of a financial liability) from its separate statement of financial position when, and only when, it is extinguished (i.e. when the obligation in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expired).

The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability (or part of a financial liability) extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognized in profit or loss.

4.08.02 Equity Instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Parent Company deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Parent Company are recognized at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Ordinary shares are classified as equity.

4.09 Employee Benefits

4.09.01 Short-term Benefits

The Parent Company recognizes a liability net of amounts already paid and an expense for services rendered by employees during the accounting period. Short-term benefits that the Parent Company may give should there be any employees include salaries and wages, medical benefits, SSS, Philhealth and HDMF contributions and other benefits.

In both years, the Parent Company does not have employees.

4.10 Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Parent Company has a present obligation, whether legal or constructive, as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Parent Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Where a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows.

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, a receivable is recognized as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

Provisions are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

4.11 Revenue Recognition

4.11.01 Dividend Income

Dividend income from investments is recognized when the shareholder's right to receive payment has been established, provided that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Parent Company and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably.

4.11.02 Finance Income

Finance income is recognized when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Parent Company and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably. Finance income is accrued on a time proportion basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

4.12 Expense Recognition

Expense encompasses losses as well as those expenses that arise in the course of the ordinary activities of the Parent Company.

The Parent Company recognizes expenses in the separate statement of comprehensive income when a decrease in future economic benefits related to a decrease in an asset or an increase of a liability has arisen that can be measured reliably.

4.13 Foreign Currency Transactions and Translation

In preparing the financial statements of the Parent Company, transactions in currencies other than the Parent Company's functional currency, i.e. foreign currencies, are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

4.14 Related Parties and Related Party Transactions

A related party is a person or entity that is related to the Parent Company that is preparing its separate financial statements. A person or a close member of that person's family is related to Parent Company if that person has control or joint control over the Parent Company, has significant influence over the Parent Company, or is a member of the key management personnel of the Parent Company.

An entity is related to the Parent Company if any of the following conditions applies:

- The entity and the Parent Company are members of the same group (which means that each parent, subsidiary and fellow subsidiary is related to the others).
- One entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or an associate or joint venture of a member of a group of which the other entity is a member).
- Both entities are joint ventures of the same third party.
- One entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity.
- The entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the Parent Company or an entity related to the Parent Company. If the Parent Company is itself such a plan, the sponsoring employers are also related to the Parent Company.
- The entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified above.
- A person identified above has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity).
- Management entity providing key management personnel services to a reporting entity.

Close members of the family of a person are those family members, who may be expected to influence, or be influenced by, that person in their dealings with the Parent Company and include that person's children and spouse or domestic partner; children of that person's spouse or domestic partner; and dependents of that person or that person's spouse or domestic partner.

A related party transaction is a transfer of resources, services or obligations between related parties, regardless of whether a price is charged.

4.15 Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of current and deferred taxes.

4.15.01 Current Tax

Current tax is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from profit as reported in the separate statement of comprehensive income because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The Parent Company's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

4.15.02 Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the separate financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences, carry forward of unused tax credits from excess Minimum Corporate Income Tax (MCIT) over Regular Corporate Income Tax (RCIT) and unused Net Operating Loss Carry-over (NOLCO), to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences and carry forward of unused MCIT and unused NOLCO can be utilized. Deferred income tax, however, is not recognized when it arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction that affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences are only recognized to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilize the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realized, based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Parent Company expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off deferred tax assets against deferred tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Parent Company intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

4.15.03 Current and Deferred Taxes for the Period

Current and deferred taxes are recognized as an expense or income in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized outside profit or loss, whether in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the tax is also recognized outside profit or loss.

4.15.04 Final Tax on Dividend

When the Parent Company pays dividends to its shareholders, it may be required to pay a portion of the dividends to taxation authorities on behalf of its shareholders. In many jurisdictions, this amount is referred to as a withholding tax. Such an amount paid or payable to taxation authorities is charged to equity as a part of the dividends.

4.16 Earnings per Share

The Parent Company computes its basic earnings per share by dividing net income or loss attributable to ordinary equity holders of the Parent Company by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the period.

4.17 Events after the Reporting Period

The Parent Company identifies subsequent events as events that occurred after the reporting period but before the date when the separate financial statements were authorized for issue. Any subsequent events that provide additional information about the Parent Company's position at the reporting period, adjusting events, are reflected in the separate financial statements, while subsequent events that do not require adjustments, non-adjusting events, are disclosed in the notes to separate financial statements when material.

4.18 Changes in Accounting Policies

The adoption of the new and revised standards and as disclosed in Note 2.01 was made in accordance with their transitional provisions, otherwise the adoption is accounted for as change in accounting policy under PAS 8, Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors.

5. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTIES

In the application of the Parent Company's accounting policies, which are described in Note 4, Management is required to make judgments, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

5.01 Critical Judgments in Applying Accounting Policies

The following are the critical judgments, apart from those involving estimations that Management has made in the process of applying the Parent Company's accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in separate financial statements.

5.01.01 Functional Currency

The Parent Company determines its functional currency based on the economic substance of the underlying circumstances relevant to them. The US Dollar ($) is the currency that most faithfully represents the primary economic environment in which the Parent Company operates and it is the currency that mainly influences the underlying transactions, events and conditions relevant to the Parent Company. Hence, Management believes that US Dollar ($) is the Parent Company's functional currency since it represents the economic substance relevant to the Parent Company.

5.01.02 Assessment of Control

The Parent Company determines whether an entity qualifies as a subsidiary when it has control over an entity. The Parent Company controls an entity when it has the three (3) elements of control, as disclosed in Note 4. In making its judgments, the Parent Company considers all facts and circumstances when assessing control over an investee. A reassessment of control is conducted when there are changes to one or more of the three (3) elements of control. Any changes from at least one (1) of the elements would result to lose or gain of control over an entity.

In both years, the Parent Company, having one hundred percent (100%) ownership and voting interest, assessed that it has control over all of its subsidiaries since it has power over the subsidiaries, exposure or rights to variable returns from its involvement and ability to use its power to affect the component of its returns. The carrying amounts of investments in subsidiaries amounted to $89,134,452 in both years, as disclosed in Note 10.

5.01.03 Assessment of Contractual Terms of a Financial Asset

The Parent Company determines whether the contractual terms of a financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. In making its judgments, the Parent Company considers whether the cash flows before and after the changes in timing or in the amount of payments represent only payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Management assessed that the contractual terms of the financial assets are solely payments of principal and interest and consistent with the basic lending arrangement except for equity investments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income. In both years, carrying amount of financial asset at FVOCI amounted to nil. As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, the aggregate amounts of the Parent Company's cash, other receivables and due from related parties amounted to $140,787,004 and $155,390,826, respectively, as disclosed in Note 24.

5.01.04 Assessment on the Bifurcation of Embedded Derivative

The Parent Company determines whether the embedded derivative component of the Parent Company's Note Facility Agreement (NFA) should be modified in relation to changes in a variable, such as an interest rate, commodity price, credit rating, or foreign exchange rate.

The Parent Company assessed that the embedded derivative in the NFA is closely related to the host contract, thus it was not bifurcated from the host contract based on the provisions of PFRS 9. As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, carrying amounts of long-term loans amounted to $61,940,920 and $72,806,671, respectively, as disclosed in Note 13.

5.02 Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainties

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimated uncertainty at the end of the reporting period that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

5.02.01 Estimating Expected Credit Losses of Financial Assets

The Parent Company evaluates the expected credit losses related to its financial assets based on an individual assessment and available facts and circumstances, including, but not limited to historical experience, macro-economic factors, industry performance, and financial information.

The Parent Company uses credit ratings, performance of banking industry, macro-economic and bank's financial information to assess the expected credit losses on its cash in banks. In view of the foregoing factors, Management believes that the expected credit loss is nil.

The Parent Company uses performance of client industry, macro-economic factors and economy's outlook to assess the expected credit losses on its other receivables and due from related parties. In view of the foregoing factors, Management believes that the expected credit loss on other receivables and due from related parties is nil.

As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, the aggregate carrying amounts of aforementioned financial assets amounted to $140,787,004 and $155,390,826, respectively, as disclosed in Note 24.

5.02.02 Reviewing Residual Values, Useful Life and Depreciation Method of Transportation Equipment

The residual values, useful life and depreciation method of the Parent Company's transportation equipment are reviewed at least annually, and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate, if there is an indication of a significant change in how an asset is used; significant unexpected wear and tear; technological advancement; and changes in market prices since the most recent annual reporting date. The useful life of the Parent Company's transportation equipment is estimated based on the period over which the transportation equipment is expected to be available for use. In determining the useful life of transportation equipment, the Parent Company considers the expected usage, expected physical wear and tear, technical or commercial obsolescence arising from changes or improvements in production, or from a change in the market demand for the product or service output and legal or other limits on the use of the Parent Company's transportation equipment. In addition, the estimation of the useful life is based on Parent Company's collective assessment of industry practice, internal technical evaluation and experience with similar assets. It is possible, however, that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in estimates brought about by changes in factors mentioned above. The amounts and timing of recorded expenses for any period would be affected by changes in these factors and circumstances. A reduction in the estimated useful life of transportation equipment would increase the recognized operating expenses and decrease non-current assets. The Parent Company uses a depreciation method that reflects the pattern in which it expects to consume the transportation equipment's future economic benefits. If there is an indication that there has been a significant change in the pattern used by which the Parent Company expects to consume transportation equipment's future economic benefits, the Parent Company shall review its present depreciation method and, if current expectations differ, it shall change the depreciation method to reflect the new pattern.

In both years, Management assessed that there are no indications of any change in pattern used by the Parent Company in consuming its transportation equipment's future economic benefits. As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, transportation equipment's carrying amount is $16,939 and $33,878, respectively, as disclosed Note 11.

5.02.03 Asset Impairment

Impairment review is performed when certain impairment indicators are present. Determining the fair values of prepayment and other current assets, transportation equipment, and investment in subsidiaries requires the estimation of cash flows expected to be generated from the continued use and ultimate disposition of such assets. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows shall be discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

While it is believed that the assumptions used in the estimation of fair values reflected in the separate financial statements are appropriate and reasonable, significant changes in these assumptions may materially affect the assessment of recoverable values and any resulting impairment loss could have a material adverse impact on the results of operations.

In both years, Management assessed that there is no indication of impairment on its prepayment and other current assets, transportation equipment and investment in subsidiaries. As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, the aggregate carrying amounts of the aforementioned assets amounted to $89,163,193 and $89,186,035, respectively, as disclosed in Notes 9, 10, and 11.

5.02.04 Recoverability of Deferred Tax Assets

The Parent Company reviews the carrying amount at reporting date and reduces deferred tax asset to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax assets to be utilized prior to its expiration.

In both years, based on Management's evaluation of its expected taxable profit in the near future, the Parent Company will not be able to utilize the benefit of the deferred tax assets. As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, the unrecognized deferred tax assets amounted to $951,085 and $580,471, respectively, as disclosed in Note 21.

The fair value of the equity investment is obtained through market comparable approach (Level 3). The price is indicative of actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis.

In 2019 and 2018, the fair value of the investment in unquoted equity instrument was based on the adjusted net asset value (NAV) approach. Under NAV approach, the fair value was derived by determining the fair value of each identifiable assets and liabilities of the investee. As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, the investee company is at start-up phase and has not yet commenced operations.

There were no disposals of equity investment in both years.

The NFA bears interest of 3.14% per annum payable quarterly. The net proceeds of the issuance of the NFA shall be used to finance the Group's strategic acquisitions and for general corporate purposes.

Under the NFA, the Parent Company shall pay 30% of the loan outstanding on issue date in twelve (12) equal consecutive quarterly installments in the amount equivalent to 2.5% of loan outstanding on issue date commencing on the end of the 5th quarter until end of the 16th quarter from the Issue date. The remaining 70% of the loan outstanding on issue date is payable in four (4) equal consecutive quarterly installments in the amount equivalent to 17.5% if the loan outstanding on issue date commencing on the 17th quarter from the issue date until the maturity date, provided that each such date shall coincide with an interest payment date, and that the last installment shall be in an amount sufficient to fully pay the loan.

23.02 Fair Value Measurements Recognized in the Separate Statement of Financial Position

The following table provides an analysis of financial instruments that are measured subsequent to initial recognition at fair value, grouped into Levels 1 to 3 based on the degree to which the fair value is observable:

- Level 1 fair value measurements are those derived from quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 fair value measurements are those derived from inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); and
- Level 3 fair value measurements are those derived from valuation techniques that include inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The Company used Level 1 to value its investments at fair value through other comprehensive income. Accordingly, fair value of the said investments amounted to nil in both years.

24. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES, POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The Parent Company's Management provides services to the business, coordinates access to domestic and international financial markets, monitors and manages the financial risks relating to the operations of the Parent Company through internal risk reports which analyze exposures by degree and magnitude of risks. These risks include credit risk, market risk which includes interest rate risk and liquidity risk.

24.01 Credit Risk Management

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Parent Company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. The Parent Company is exposed to credit risks from cash in banks, other receivables and due from related parties, all at amortized cost.

The Parent Company considers the following policies to manage its credit risk:

➤ Banks

The Parent Company transacts only to banks with investment grade credit rating. This information is supplied by independent rating agencies. The Parent Company uses other publicly available information such as annual report to monitor the financial status of the banks. The Parent Company assesses the current and forecast information of the banking industry and the macro-economic factors such as GDP, interest and inflation rates to determine the possible impact to banks.

➤ Other receivables and due from related parties

The Parent Company transacts only with its employees and counterparties. The Parent Company assesses the current and forecast information of the collectability of receivables.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost are as follows:

	2019	2018
Cash in banks	$ 3,303,560	$ 6,493,397
Other receivables	5,217,905	-
Due from related parties	132,265,539	148,897,429
	$ 140,787,004	$ 155,390,826

The calculation of allowance for expected credit losses are based on the following three (3) components:

➤ Probability of Default (PD)

PD is the likelihood over a specified period, usually one year that a client will not be able to make scheduled repayments. PD depends not only on the client's characteristics, but, also on the economic environment. PD may be estimated using historical data and statistical techniques.

➤ Loss Given Default (LGD)

LGD is the amount of money a Parent Company loses when a client defaults on a contract. The most frequently used method to calculate this loss is by comparing the actual total losses and the total amount of potential exposure sustained at the time that a contract goes into default.

➤ Exposure at Default (EAD)

EAD is the total value a Parent Company is exposed to when a loan defaults. It refers to the carrying amount of financial asset.

Below is the summary of computation of allowance for expected credit losses in 2019 and 2018:

	PD rate a	LGD rate b	EAD c	ECL d=a*b*c

24.02 Market Risk Management

24.02.01 Interest Rate Risk Management
